I'm trying to use Spring RabbitMQ in a very simple way and am wondering how the following code works. Am i missing something?

```
SpringApplication application = new SpringApplication(MyEventDispatcher.class); MyEventDispatcher eventDispatcher = application.run(); // Create a queue: TopicExchange exchange = new TopicExchange("my-exchange", "my-queue"); eventDispatcher.setDefaultExchange("my-exchange"); eventDispatcher.setDefaultRoutingKey("my-queue"); eventDispatcher.setBeanName("myRabbitListener"); eventDispatcher.setNumTasks(4); eventDispatcher.setTaskExecutor("myTaskExecutor"); // Create a listener: RabbitListener listener = new RabbitListener(); eventDispatcher.addBean("myListener", listener); eventDispatcher.publishEvent("my-event", "args", "data"); This is the code I have: public class MyEventListener implements ApplicationListener { @Override public void onApplicationEvent(ApplicationEvent event) { System.out.println(event.getMessage() + " received"); } } In the application.properties I have: spring.rabbitmq.listener.myListener.channel.nack-policy=ENABLE spring.rabbitmq.listener.myListener.reply-channel=true spring.rabbitmq.listener.myListener.reply-timeout=1000 spring.rabbitmq.listener.myListener.exchange=my-exchange spring.rabbitmq.listener.myListener.routing-key=my-queue spring.rabbitmq.listener.
